Addition to Part I, Works by Arnold J. Toynbee

1934

Arnold Joseph Toynbee, Nationalism – a Threat to Happiness. In Seeking a Return to Outmoded Patterns of Government and Conduct, the Nations Condemn Themselves and Their Peoples to Destruction, Expert Warns, in «The Christian Science Monitor. An International Daily Newspaper. Weekly Magazine Section. A Survey of World Affairs», XXVI, 49, January 24, 1934, pp. 3, 15.

NOTE

«Arnold J. Toynbee is widely known, not only as the Director of Studies in the Royal Institute of International Affairs in London, and as a lecturer at the University of London, but as the editor of the annual reference volume [Survey of International Affairs]. He is a familiar figure in the United States, where he led a round table at the Williamstown Institute of Politics in 1932, and where he lectured only a few months ago. His article, Nationalism – a Threat to Happiness, is extremely important at this time in view of the strong tendency on the part of many governments to pursue the very policy that he believes can lead only to an unhappy result. It is hoped that this article will still readers to think deeply on the subject, and then to take action to stop the unfortunate trend» (ivi, p. 14)
